The camp was well selected near the city, and quite near the Mississippi river, where excellent bathing could be had, and the shade trees proved a blessing during the warm days. Water was supplied at each company kitchen by drive wells; ice, wood and straw was furnished, free of charge, by the generous citizens of Winona.

Tents for both officers and men were all; each one brought what bedding he required while in camp. As the State is not prepared to subsist her troops, the messing of the men was by companies, the purchases being made by a non-commissioned officer, under the supervision of the company commander, the men paying for the supplies out of their own pay, which was $1.00 per diem. Fresh beef and vegetables were supplied in abundance, with a total cost to each man of about fifty cents per day, and, while it cost the men of some of the companies more than the above sum, I am satisfied that a company can live well on the above amount.

A copy of the order of the routine of the camp is attached, marked "A," from which it will be observed that most of the morning was devoted to drills, and the afternoon to target practice, parades, guard mounts, etc.

The company drills were well attended, most of the company officers participating. The drill was usually in the "School of the Company," and about half of the companies had skirmish drill, which was very well performed.

The battalion drills came next, in which all participated. There was at first a marked tendency to lose distance, especially in the new organizations, but before the week had expired considerable improvement was observed, and it is to be regretted that they could not have at least one more week in camp.

Target practice was quite a feature in the camp. Distance fired, two hundred (200) yards. Two of the company teams, Company "D," Captain Bird, and "I," Captain Donahower, did very good shooting, and some of the men of the other teams did very well individually.

During the encampment the troops were reviewed by His Excellency the Governor of Minnesota, and also by Generals Gould and MacCarthy.

At Colonel Balslev's request, on Sunday morning, July 13th, I made an inspection of the command, and the number present thereat was as follows:

- Field, Staff and Band
  - "A", Captain E. J. Collins
  - "B", James Hunter
  - "C", M. T. Hackley
  - "D", Wm. Bird
  - "E", T. E. Schliender
  - "F", J. L. Washburn
  - "G", M. M. Trobridge
  - "H", D. F. Goodrich
  - "I", J. C. Donahower
  - "K", L. Houde

Emmet Light Artillery

Total

It will be observed that some of the companies had good turn-outs, while others were very small. A great many changes have taken place among the commissioned officers of this regiment since their last annual encampment; five captains have resigned, and in one company ("G") all the officers have been changed, and only eight men of the company that were in camp last year were present at this encampment.

The arms as a rule were not found to be as clean as they ought to be; all the companies of the regiment have not provided themselves with the uniform adopted by the State, nor can they be expected to do so soon without assistance from some source.

Police of the camp was very good. The Emmet Light Artillery had but few men in camp, no battery officer being present. The Adjutant General of the State, MacCarthy, exercised a supervision over their drills, etc., while in camp. They presented the same soldierly appearance as they did last year. A sham battle took place on Saturday, July 12th, and was much enjoyed by about fifteen thousand spectators. The affair was quite successful; the skirmishing was especially good, no accident occurring to any one engaged.

In concluding my remarks on this encampment I will add that both officers and men were very earnest and painstaking in the discharge of their duties, and no case of drunkenness came under my observation.

The First Regiment, Col. W. B. Bend commanding, was encamped at Lake Calhoun, near Minneapolis, Minn., from July 17th, to July 24th, 1884. The camp was located near the above named lake, where there was good bathing. Shade trees were also near the camp where men could be protected from the noon-day sun.
The ground selected was not large enough for the camp and batalion drills, still one week of good hard work was accomplished. A copy of the routine of the camp is here to attached, and marked "B", which differs but little from that of Col. Bobbeter's, marked "A".

The batalion drills were very good, but the same trouble in losting distances among the new companies of the regiment was obmuch improved.

The regiment was reviewed on Saturday, July 19th, by Col. G. L. Andrews, 25th Infantry, commanding Fort Snelling, Minn. The Colonel expresses himself as well pleased with the military bearing and deployment of the regiment.

On Tuesday, July 22nd, His Excellency the Governor of Minnesota, accompanied by Generals MacCarthy, Murphy, Colonels Bobbeter, Moore, Brandt and Major Bjorling, also reviewed the regiment.

On Sunday, at Colonel Bend's request, I made an inspection of the First Regiment; the number present thereat was as follows:

It will be observed that some of the companies were well represented, while others were quite small. The arms of a majority of others but little attention has been paid towards keeping them at least in a serviceable condition. The clothing fit the men very well, and as they are all uniformed alike, presented a very soldierly appearance.

The messing was by companies, purchases being made by a non-commissioned officer, under the supervision of the Company Commander. The cost to each individual varied according to the wish of the men, in some, the price per man was about $1, in others as low as 50 cents per day. Supplies being obtained at Minneapolis at reasonable rates, and was paid for out of the men's salary.

The camp was kept well policed, and but little sickness prevailed. No cases of drunkenness came under my observation.

Target practice was in charge of Dr. Skinner, a noted fine shot, and was well attended; distance fired, 100 and 200 yards. On Tuesday evening, July 22, a team of the Field and Staff and ten men from each company being allowed; the prize was a beautiful banner, and was won by Company "H", Captain Leavitt, by a score of two points over Company "A". There are some excellent shots in this regiment, and I was much pleased that so much interest was taken in target practice.

The officers and men of this regiment, like the Second, were very zealous in the discharge of their duties as soldiers, and quite a spirit of emulation exists among the companies, which I most sincerely hope may prove of great benefit in the future.

I would most respectfully submit the following recommendations for the consideration of his Excellency, the Governor of Minnesota:

1st. That the Captains of companies make frequent inspection of the arms of their respective companies, and see that they are kept in a clean condition. That the old rifles now in the hands of some of the companies be turned in, and replaced by 45 calibre and "safety notch," and that an armory be provided for each company.

2nd. That more attention be paid to the "School of the Soldier," especially the setting up drill exercises; a soldier may be well drilled in the manual of arms, company and battalion drills, but unless he carries himself in a soldierly manner, he will not create an favorable impression as if he carried himself erect.

3rd. That both officers and soldiers be required to pass a physical examination before being accepted into the service of the State. While great care has been taken in some companies, like Wright's and Bean's of the First Regiment, Hunter's of the Second Regiment, and the Emmet Light Artillery, I am satisfied that there are men on the rolls in both regiments that would not pass a competent surgeon.

4th. That camp equipage be supplied to each regiment; this will save the trouble and expense of shipping from one place of encampment to another, besides, each regiment will take pride in taking care of its own property.
6th. That the State, in addition to the present allowance, pay to each officer and soldier fifty (50) cents per day for their subsistence while in the service of the State.
7th. That some system of accountability be adopted by which company commanders be required to make annual returns to the proper State official of all the State property for which he is accountable.
This report should be required when an officer leaves the service. That suitable muster and pay rolls and morning reports be required. The latter reports now in use in the army would answer the purpose very well.
In concluding this brief report I desire to express my sincere thanks to His Excellency, the Governor of Minnesota, Adjutant General MacCarty, Colonels Bobbitt and Bend, and the officers and soldiers under their commands, for the uniform courtesy with which I was treated while in camp.
I am, General, very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
GAINES LAWSON,
Captain 25th Infantry.
"A."

VII. Leave of absence from 12 M. to 6 P.M. will be granted to such persons as commanders of companies may recommend, but they will be held strictly accountable for their acts out of camp as well as in camp.

By order of General Orders, No. 3.

1. Pursuant to General Orders No. 7, A. G. O., this Regiment will encamp at Lake Calhoun for one week, commencing 17th proximo. The State will pay one dollar a day to each officer and soldier on duty.

2. The camp will be called Camp Sheridan, in honor of Lieut. Gen. P. H. Sheridan.

3. The Commander in Chief has adopted for the government of the National Guard the Articles of War and the Regulations of the Army, and has directed that this encampment shall be conducted strictly in accordance therewith. Officers will therefore at once make themselves thoroughly familiar with their duties thereunder.

4. Nothing so clearly shows the efficiency or inefficiency of a regiment as the manner in which the ceremony of guard mount is executed, and the manner in which sentries perform their duties. In order that all possible progress may be made in these important matters, commandants of companies will devote at least two evenings before the encampment to the instruction of their men in these particulars.

5. The commandant of each company will detail a fatigue party of one non-commissioned officer and four privates to report to Lieutenant J. K. Metzger, Quartermaster, at the corner of Washington Avenue and First Avenue South, Minneapolis, on Wednesday, 16th prox., at 8:45 o'clock, A. M., for duty at the camp grounds.

6. Company F will take the 10:30 P. M. train on the 16th, for Minneapolis.

Company G will take the 4 A. M. train on the 17th, for Minneapolis.

Company H will take the 4:18 A. M. train on the 17th, for Minneapolis.

Companies C, D and E and the band will take the 8 A. M. train on the 17th, for Minneapolis.

Company K will take the 6:30 A. M. train on the 17th, for Minneapolis.

Transportation from Minneapolis to the camp will be furnished by the Motor line.

First Lieutenant and Quartermaster, J. K. Metzger, is charged with the moving of the troops and their camp equipage through Minneapolis and to the camp grounds. Commissary Sergeant Keogh will act as Quartermaster Sergeant, and will report to Lieutenant Metzger for orders.

The field, staff and the commandants of companies will report to the commanding officer at Camp Sheridan, by 10 o'clock A. M., on the 17th. The non-commissioned staff and the band will report at the same time and place to the Adjutant.

7. Private Skinner of Company B, is appointed Inspector of Rifle Practice during the encampment, with the rank of captain. He will have charge of that part of the exercises, and will be obeyed and respected accordingly.

8. It is of the utmost importance that every member of the regiment should report for duty on the morning of the 17th prox.
battery drills sabre exercise and foot drill. On dress parades and reviews the battery acted with the regiment. On Friday, July 11, Gov. Hubbard and staff officially visited the camp. The party was formally received at the depot and escorted to camp by all the troops. The Emmet Light Artillery fired the customarily salute upon the governor’s arrival in camp. At 5 o’clock P. M. the troops were reviewed by the Governor and staff. An exhibition battalion drill by the regiment and battery drill by the Emmet Light Artillery followed the review. On Saturday, July 12th, all the troops in camp participated in a sham battle, which passed off to the entire satisfaction of all parties, and no accident occurred. On Sunday the troops were inspected by Capt. Gaines Lawson, 25th U. S. Infantry, whose presence at camp was very beneficial for both officers and men.

The average attendance at the camp was as follows:

Emmet Light Artillery,

The total number of officers and men in camp, during the encampment, 460.

The troops subsisted themselves and received compensation from the State at the rate of one dollar per day, which is, in my opinion, entirely inadequate. For the sum total paid troops encamped at Camp Hubbard I would respectfully refer you to the official report of paymaster hereto attached.

The health of the command during the encampment was excellent, one company (6) reporting no sick at all, and those reported from the other companies being of a trivial nature. I refer you to the reports of Surgeon Berry, and the Hospital Steward, hereto attached.

I fully and heartily concur in the several recommendations made by Capt. Gaines Lawson, in his report of the encampment of the Minnesota National Guard, to Gov. Hubbard.
ANNUAL REPORT.

In closing this report I desire to commend the officers and men for their soldierly deportment and alacrity with which all calls for duty were answered while in camp.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

I am, General, very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

JOS. BOBLETER,

Colonel.

HEADQUARTERS SECOND REGIMENT, M. N. G.,
New Ulm, Minn., Sept. 10, 1884.

I would most respectfully report that the character of disease, incident to camp life, at Winona during our last encampment, were such as is usually found, and due principally to change of water and methods of living, and would be classed as "acute indigestion." The general health of the camp was most excellent. The water supply was obtained through deep wells, was of good quality for culinary and drink water purposes, and practically without limit.

The quality of food supplied was very good, and, as a rule, was very well cooked. The hospital supplies for 1883 amounted to $8.40, while those of 1884 were $13.65, showing there was much less sickness during the last encampment than the one previous. The supplies were in part paid for by an assessment on the different companies, but some of the companies are two or three years behind. I would suggest a small appropriation, say $25.00 a year, for hospital purposes.

GENERAL ORDERS
No. 10

1. Before a regimental Court Martial, of which Capt. V. J. Welsh was president, was tried, private C. S. Leeds of Company I, First Regiment, M. N. G., on the following charge and specification:

Charge—Acts prejudicial to military discipline.

Specification: In that he, private C. S. Leeds, Company I, First Regiment, M. N. G., did on or about the 1st day of February, A. D. 1884, at Stillwater, Minnesota, falsely state and represent to his superior officer to-wit: Geo. M. Naylor, Major of said Regiment, applying for a pass, that the Captain of said Company I, First Regiment, to-wit: Capt. Reeve, was asleep, and that he (said Leeds) did not wish to disturb him or words to that effect. That said false statement and representation was then and there made, knowingly, willfully, and falsely, and with intent by said Leeds to deceive his superior officer, Geo. M.
Naylor, Major aforesaid. That said Leeds, at the time he made said statement then and there knew the same was false, and that in truth and fact his Capitain (sic) aforesaid was not asleep, but was then and there awake and present, as said Leeds then and there well knew. All contrary to good order and military discipline. To which the accused pleaded; to the specification not guilty; to the charge not guilty. After mature deliberation the Court found the accused, of the specification guilty; of the charge, guilty. And the Court sentenced him, to be said, private, C. S. Leeds, of Company I, 1st Regiment, to be reprimanded in General Orders, a copy of which shall be posted in Company I's room, at the armory in Minneapolis, for a period of thirty days.

2. In General orders No. 3, Headquarters 1st Regiment M. N. G., publishing the findings of the Court and promulgating the sentence, the Colonel commanding the regiment approved the findings of the court except as to the finding of the accused guilty of so much of the specifications as charges him with knowing that the statement he made was false: In the opinion of the reviewing officer, this charge in the specifications was not sustained by the evidence. In this opinion the Commander-in-Chief concurs.

The accused appealed to the Commander-in-Chief, and in returning the record of the Court in response to Special Orders No. 7, A. O. G., the Colonel command-ning, protests against the entertaining of the appeal on the ground that neither the Military Code, Articles of war or regulations give the right of appeal and that the acts of the reviewing officer are final.

3. The right of appeal to the Commander-in-Chief, is thoroughly settled in the National Guard organizations of the country, and it is in consonance with the character of the National Guard service that the citizen soldier be fully protected in his rights as a citizen, while being compelled to perform the cuits of a soldier, and the fairest construction of the Articles of war allows every soldier to appeal to the President of the United States, and the same right must be accorded to guardsman to appeal to the Governor of their State.

4. The Military Code of 1886 specially provides punishment by fine "for acts prejudicial to Military discipline," these fines being imposed by constitution and by-laws of the National Guard, and they are collectable by civil procedure, and a neglect to pay is a misdemeanor, punishable by fine or imprisonment, by proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction. It was evidently the intention of the Legislature that such proceedings take the place of Courts Martial, except in extraordinary cases, when charges are preferred to the Commander-in-Chief. Section 2, Article X, of the Code, vests the power to order Courts Martial in the Commander-in-Chief, and he cannot delegate that power to another, and the order adopting the U. S. Regulations, where applicable to the guard and consistent with the laws of the State, does not give to this court was not constituted by the proper authority and its proceedings are null and void.

5. The proceedings, and the order from Regimental Headquarters promulgating the same are hereby annulled, and private C. S. Leeds is released from arrest and restored to duty.

C. M. MacCarthy,
By command of Gov. L. F. Hubbard, Adjutant General.
